Splashdown Raft-up 2014

Having survived a winter where the snow was as deep as we remember it as children, it is good to be in the boat yard again readying our boats for the 2014 Season

To celebrate the new sailing season, join us for the 2014 Splashdown Raft-up and show-off the shine of your hull.

Activities in addition to last minute adjustments to the standing rigging will include plotting our escape to warmer regions to avoid another winter like this one.

If 'old man winter' decides to put the 'hammer down' one last time making it too uncomfortable; we will change the venue to Maryland Marina and stay plugged in.

Location: Worton Creek Anchorage 'Blind Duck Cove'

Date: Saturday, April 5th

Time: 1500 Hours – Arrival
1501 to 1758 Hours – Fixing and Organizing Boat Stuff
2000 Hours – Dessert aboard Narsilion

Please let Tom Schmidt (thomas.d.schmidt@LMTSC.com) know your interest in attending the First 2014 Raft-up.
